An interesting Golf Fact you haven't heard before:

“The First Round of Women’s Golf Was Played in 1811

Sports have a history of misogyny. Golf is no exception. That’s why the first round of women’s golf took four hundred years after the sport was created!

This first round was played in Musselburgh, Scotland. In 1867, the first women’s club was developed. From here, women’s golf has an outstanding history.

Like every sport, women still struggle in the world of golf. But the golf course is becoming friendlier to women.”

Happy golfing, stay safe and healthy!
