R.H. Johnson Library plans new virtual discussion

Sun City West residents are invited to a virtual discussion of "New Writers Experiences" with Linda Johnson and Nancy Kasten from 1 to 2 p.m. Thursday, March 11.

Residents are invited to hear from local writers and authors of various genres as they discuss their personal experiences encountered as they write. The hour-long Zoom presentation, sponsored by the R.H. Johnson Library, will take the format of a question-and-answer period touching on such issues as: What were the satisfactory moments, the difficulties, the solutions?

Registration is required. To register visit scwlibrary.com and click on the "Virtual Discussion: New Writers Experiences" link under "Upcoming Events."

After registering, you will be emailed a link to join this Zoom meeting. A Zoom account is not required, but a microphone is required if you want to participate in the interactive portion of this program.

If you have questions about the program or need help with set up, please contact scwlibrary@suncitywest.com

Nancy Kasten is a resident of Sun City West and has recently published her first book, "It Happened in Cassidy."

Linda Chamley Johnson, a local author, has lived in Sun City West for 16 years. Linda has taught all grade levels, ending her career with university level students. She is a life-long writer and poet who enjoys deep discussions about the writing process and how it can help her to become a better author.
