PRESS RELEASE

3/2/21

RHJ Library reopens March 9 for 'Grab and Go'

The R. H. Johnson Library will reopen March 9 for members to come for short visits to browse for materials to checkout. Curbside pickup service will continue to be available.

To limit the number of patrons inside the building at any one time, the Library will restrict activities to finding and checking out materials. Members may come in; find their books, DVDs, and puzzles; check them out and take them back home to enjoy.

The library is encouraging visits of no more than 30 minutes, with one person per household coming in if possible. Residents are asked to observe 6-foot physical distancing from staff and one another. Patrons and staff must wear masks while inside.

No other services will be available initially, with study rooms and meeting rooms remaining closed. The Data Resource Center will continue to be available by appointments only.

Beginning March 9 for this Grab and Go service, the hours will be regular business hours: 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.
